INFLUENTIAL WOMEN IN MEDICINE

MEREDITH ABBOTT, MD

Dr. Meredith Abbott's interest in the medical industry first sparked in early childhood. "Since I was very young, I knew I wanted to be a physician," she says. "I love science, but more than anything, I love taking care of people. To be able to combine my intellectual interests with caring for others is so rewarding." Today, the Board-Certified Ophthalmologist and Oculofacial Plastic Surgeon offers an array of surgical services at Abbott Aesthetics, from Eyelid Blepharoplasty to Ptosis Repair, not to mention a range of complementary and nonsurgical procedures, from state-of-the-art lasers and light devices to microneedling treatments and medical-grade facials. art form; the surgery is clean, delicate, and precise – it's a true combination of art and science." Over the last decade, Dr. Abbott's ability to connect and empathize with patients has contributed to her sterling reputation. Furthermore, her practice's boutique setting in a renovated cottage on West Lovers Lane immediately makes patients feel at home. "I am excited to turn the page in this next chapter where I can provide an even higher level of service with a more concierge approach and expanded treatment options," she shares. "I think we have a real market for patients that want to look and feel their best, and we welcome them with open arms."
